

Abstract of the Disclosure

The invention relates to the production of light-colored polyalkylene glycol diethyl ethers of fatty acid alkanolamines by adding ethylene to the fatty acid alkanolamide in the presence of an alkaline catalyst. The inventive method cossets of alkoxylating in the presence of reducing agents and treating the 5 obtained product by steam in an alkaline medium.